

Consulting About Nursing and Health Care in Bosnia and Moscow: Lessons From the Field

Ros Lowe, BA, RGN, RHV, Dip.Soc.Res.

Consultant to the WHO in Central and Eastern Europe, Age Concern England, and the Moscow Red Cross. Formerly Chief Executive of a National Health Service Trust in England and Executive Director of the Health Visitor Association in the U.K.

Peter Farmer

Experienced consultant and adviser specializing in strategy, leadership, and management. He led the development of a primary health care strategy, capacity building amongst ministers and policy makers and a national nursing plan in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Formerly Executive Director for Ernst & Young consulting in Europe

Thursday ▪ April 17th ▪ 12:30-1:30pm

Ryals Public Health Bldg. Rm 407

Free Lunch. BYO Drink.

sponsored by

School of Nursing Pan American Health Organization/World Health Organization Collaborating Center and the Sparkman Center for Global Health