

UAB Sparkman Seminar Series in Global Health

Presents

Motor Development of Orphans in Oaxaca

In May, I traveled to Oaxaca, Mexico to study the motor development of children in an orphanage setting. This interesting experience impressed upon me the need for physical therapy in underdeveloped countries and also exposed me to the rich culture and tradition of Southern Mexico.

Lisa Ferguson,
Doctor of Physical Therapy student
School of Health Professions

Thursday ■ January 17th, 2008

12:30pm – 1:00p.m.

407 Ryals Public Health Building

Lunch Will Be Served. Please bring your own drinks.

Fostering Global Public Health Education, Research, & Service
www.sparkmancenter.org