

UAB Sparkman Seminar Series in Global Health Presents

"Carrying out my internship on the beautiful twin islands of Trinidad and Tobago was fulfilling not only because I was able to use all the skills gained in the MPH program, but the experience also helped me confirm the area that I want to go into as a public health professional!"

Melissa Nelson, MPH

International Health & Global Studies- MCH
2006/2007 Recipient of UAB SOPH Global Health Award

Characteristics of Injuries among Young People in Port-of-Spain, Trinidad & Tobago

Addressing Social Barriers to Adolescent HIV/AIDS Prevention Through Outreach Programs in Zambia

Our project aimed to assess psychological and health risk, knowledge of HIV/AIDS and perceptions of stigma, rejection, and support among adolescents including orphans and street children. These findings led us to pilot a peer-based educational intervention appropriate to this population.

Roshan Patel, B.A. B.S.

EMSAP participant
UAB 2006 Rhodes Scholar Candidate

Wednesday ▪ Feb 13th 2008

12-1pm ▪ Ryals Public Health Bldg ▪ Rm 107

Lunch Will Be Served – Please Bring Your Own Drinks.